INDULGENCE FOR SLAY WEAKNESS PREMIER'S PLEA

London Editors Admit Serious
Conditions In Russian Provinces

ONE BELIEVES STORY IS PRO-GERMAN PROPAGANDA

Russian General In England Says His Country Will
"Come Back"

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
London, Nov. 3.—Most of the morning newspapers print Premier Kerensky's interview with the Associated Press conspicuously, but the comment is not general. The Petrograd correspondent of The Daily Telegraph who is now in London, writes:

"Premier Kerensky's statement seems to have been taken a little too seriously in some quarters. It is has been construed as a hint that Russia is trying with the idea of a separate peace. This theory should not be allowed to establish itself.

"Probably all Kerensky wished was to indicate facts familiar to close students of Russia for some time and they are such as to arouse sympathy rather than speculation.
It is true that Russia is worn out and it has been true for a much longer time than has elapsed since the outbreak of the revolution. Unfortunately until that event military expeditions prevented the truth from being told about Russia's share in the war, which has been greatly underestimated. The essential fact is that what Russia had she has given."

The writer then tells of the immense sacrifices in men that Russia has made and recalls the revelations in the trial of General Soukhomlinov former minister of war, of how Russian heroes stood up with only sticks and stones and fought against the organized German troops. He believes that the Russian people have been suffering from the lack of the truth about the war. The writer also emphasizes the privations of the civilian population and the shortage of food since the middle of 1915, and adds:

"Already people are dying of hunger in some of the northern provinces and it is not pleasant to think what the situation in such districts may become early in the future.

What Kerensky wants apparently is not a release from the bonds which unite us, but indulgence for Russia's weakness and Russia certainly has deserved indulgence for her efforts and sufferings. All we can ask of her is to be her best. We must not be impatient if that is less than we expect."

The Daily Express makes a similar plea and says that no statesman ever faced more appalling difficulties than those that daily confront Premier Kerensky. It admits that Russia bore the burden of the first months of the war and that the invasion of east Prussia probably saved France from being overrun. Regret is expressed that the changed conditions of warfare have made it impossible for the British fleet to operate in the Baltic, but the Express maintains that all Britain has been able to do to help Russia has been done willingly and she will do the utmost in the future to help Russia establish her freedom.

The Graphic says:
"We should hate to regard the statements as authentic. They have the ring of pro-german propaganda."
The newspaper then says that Kerensky, "if he has made such a statement, should be reminded that France and Great Britain have been in the war as long as Russia, but are not yet war weary and do not desire to shirk their responsibilities. Russia, it declares, also has received generous assistance from the allies and the United States. The Graphic concludes:

"Now is the time to prove her devotion to the ideals of the allies not by lip service but by good hard blows on the weakened Austro-German lines in the east."

General Gurko, of the Russian army, who arrived recently in England from Russia, in an interview in
The Daily Express, says that Premier Kerensky showed lack of political sense and tact in blaming the British fleet for not entering the Baltic.
He declared that such entry was not only impossible, but that it could not have been carried out in time to prevent the Germans from landing on the islands in the Gulf of Riga.

General Gurko considers it true to a certain extent that Russia bore the brunt of the fight in the first 15 months of the war, but it is realized that if the allies' cause was to be ruined this was necessary. He agrees completely with Kerensky that Russia is exhausted for the time being, but adds that Russia should be able to undertake her share of the fighting.

FIVE MILLION SIGN PLEDGES.

ably little more than half the country board from returns from the food rolled as members of the U. S. food administration.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
London, Nov. 3.—An attack was made today on British vessels patroling the Belgian coast by an electrically controlled high speed boat. The

The term "electrically controlled" may mean that the boat is of a new type without crew, and controlled from the shore by an electric device.

ary cruiser Marie of Flensburg were killed in an engagement with British destroyers, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copen-

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

London, Nov. 3.—The admiralty announces that certain British forces have been engaged in the Categat, an arm of the North Sea between Sweden and Denmark and that prisoners are being brought in. No further information is yet at hand.

An official statement issued by the

with six inch guns, were destroyed.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Copenhagen, Nov. 3.—A German commerce raider and five armed trawlers have been sunk by British forces in the Scandinavian waters.
The sinking of the raider, named Crocodile and five German armed trawlers was reported by men on two Danish ships. They say they sighted the German vessels in flames, and later saw them sink. The Crocodile was a new ship of nearly 1,000 tons and carried a crew of 100 men.

The commerce raider which was sunk yesterday in the Skagerrak, an arm of the North sea between Norway and Denmark. The British destroyers thus effected another cleanup of German naval forces in Scandinavian waters.

HEAVY RAIN MAKES A MUD DITCH OF AMERICAN TRENCH

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
With the American Army in France, Nov. 3.—A heavy downpour of rain, beginning at noon Friday, hindered the activity of the artillery in the portion of the French front where the American battalions are on duty, and converted the back area into a mass of mud.

No official communication was issued on Friday, but there has been nothing in reports to headquarters to suggest any change in the normal situation along the American sector.

General Pershing returned yesterday from a visit to the British front.
A party of American major generals has inspected the billets of the first contingent.

ITALIAN TOWN CAPTURED BY GERMANS

This picture gives an idea of the character of some of the territory through which the Austro-German forces have advanced. The city of Ampezzo, now in the hands of the Teutons, is in the shadow of the Alps mountains in northeastern Italy, a few miles from the Austrian frontier.

12 U. S. SAILORS DOWN; PICKET BOAT FOUNDERS

Washington, Nov. 3.—Twelve men, all of the crew of a picket boat of the battleship Michigan were lost when their little craft foundered in home waters.

In a brief announcement of the disaster today the navy department gave no details of place. Presumably the fast little picket boat was on patrol duty and foundered in a heavy sea or met with some accident.
Three bodies have been found. Inasmuch as the others are missing the navy department assumed that all were lost. With the casualty list the department made this formal statement:

"The navy department announces that on October 30 the picket boat of the U. S. S. Michigan foundered.
Apparently the entire crew were lost. The finding of the bodies of three of the crew and the failure to find any other trace of the boat or its occupants leads the department to believe that all were lost."

The body of Coxswain Edmund L.
Tamello, whose mother lives in Chicago, has been recovered. It was found by fishermen entangled in their nets last Tuesday and later identified and claimed by navy officials.

A violent storm has swept the coast where the accident occurred on the day previous to the finding of Tamello's body. It is believed by the fishermen that Tamello when his boat foundered had endeavored to save himself, and may have swam some distance when he found the nets. His hands were tightly clasped around the lines of the net as if in a death grip and it was necessary to cut the ropes to untangle the body and loosen the hands of the drowned man.

The navy department made public the following crew list of the lost picket boat:

Joseph J. Schultz, seaman; brother of Herman Schultz, 1701 La Fayette street, Ft. Wayne, Ind.
Joseph H. Hendrickson, seaman;

father Albert C. Hendrickson, 611

er, Mrs. Sarah Wing, 1245 Twenty-fourth street, Detroit, Mich.

burg county, N. C.

umbia street, Wilkes Barre, Pa.

TAKE AMERICANS PRISONERS SAYS BERLIN'S REPORT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Berlin (via London), Nov. 3.—The capture of American soldiers by a German reconnoitering party is announced by the war office.

The statement says that on the Rhine-Marne canal, as a result of a counter-attacking thrust, North American soldiers were brought in.

More than 200,000 prisoners have been taken in the Austro-German campaign on the Italian front, the war office reports. There was no important fighting on this front yesterday.

ARREST HUN AGENT WHO PEDDLED NEWS TO MEXICAN SPIES

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
El Paso, Tex., Nov. 3.—In the arrest of Ernest Lohendorf, government agents believe they have discovered an "under ground route by which information has been transmitted between the United States and Mexico City for relay to Germany."

DO NOT WANT TREASONING.

Petrograd, Friday, Nov. 2.—The revolutionary democracy will refuse to send representatives to the allied conference in Paris if the Russian government insists on sending Foreign Minister Terestchenko. M.
Skobelev, chosen by the revolutionaries to go to Paris, conferred today with Premier Kerensky to whom he declared that "M. Terestchenko's views were entirely unacceptable to the revolutionary democracy. Premier Kerensky is said to have replied that he considered the participation of the democracy necessary."

GERMANS WITHDRAW ON 13-MILE LINE IN FRANCE; ITALIAN LINE IS HOLDING

Advance of Gen. Petain's Troops North of Aisne Compels Crown Prince to Retire to New Position North of Ailente River

FURTHER RETREAT MAY BE RESULT OF PRESSURE AGAINST CENTER OF LINE

Rome Reports Heavy Pressure By Austro-German Forces Against Right of Line Along Tagliamento River Where Italian Troops Prevent Enemy From Effecting a Crossing of the Stream—Berlin Report Says Prisoners Captured Now Number 200,000—British Troops Resting On Flanders Front

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Paris, Nov. 3.—The French are advancing between the Oise canal and the region of Corbeny and have reached the south bank of the Ailente river, the war office announces.

The Germans have retreated to the north bank of the river. The bridges across the Ailente were destroyed by the Germans. Since October 23 the French have captured 422 guns and 720 machine guns.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Rome, Nov. 3.—Austro-German pressure was more noticeable yesterday on the left wing of the Italian attack on the Tagliamento line, says the official statement issued today by the Italian war office. Attempts made by the Teutons to reach the right bank of the river, the statement adds, had been detected by the Italian troops.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
New York, Nov. 3.—Blowing up the bridges as they retreated the Germans on the Aisne front in northern France have given up their prearious hold on the Chemin des Dames plateau and retired to the north bank of the Ailente river along a front of approximately 13 miles, closely followed by the French.

This retirement by the German crown prince has been in prospect since the recent successful drive by General Petain, southwest of Laon, which carried the French to the banks of the Oise-Aisne canal at the western end of the Chemin des Dames and gave them artillery domination of a large section of the German lines to the east.

As appears from today's Paris official statement the Germans are now on the north bank of the Ailente a maximum distance of a mile back of their previous positions, while the French have moved up to the south bank of the river.

There is no hint in the official reports from either side as to whether a further retirement by the crown prince is in prospect. He was virtually compelled by the superiority of the new French positions to fall back at least as far as he has. The possibilities seem that he will take up a position in the heights just north of the Ailente, which commanded the approaches to Laon, keystone of the German western front at its southwestern bend.

British destroyers have put an end to the career of a German commerce raider in an arm of the North Sea.
Copenhagen dispatches today report the sinking of the raider, the Crocodile, a new vessel of about 1,000 tons and with a crew of 100 men together with five armed German trawlers. The engagement took place in the Skagerrak between the Norwegian and Danish coasts.

A British admiralty announcement tells of an engagement in the Cate-gat, the adjoining arm of the North Sea, between Sweden and Denmark.
The same engagement as that reported in the Copenhagen dispatches is evidently alluded to. The official statement moreover shows that ten armed German patrol craft were destroyed as well as the raider which is described as an auxiliary cruiser, armed with six inch guns.

Today's report from the Italian side of the Tagliamento indicates little change in the situation. The Germans are evidently increasing the intensity of their efforts to force a crossing of the stream where General Cadorna's armies are making a stand against the invaders. The Italians so far, however, have been successful in preventing such a penetration of their new line. The German report says that there have been no new military operation and claims a total of 200,000 prisoners and 1-800 guns.

War—Lead to Come
Another German retirement is under way in France. For the second time within eight months allied pressure has caused a withdrawal of the Teuton line on the western front.

The Germans have retreated from the hilly front of the Chemin des Dames, northeast of Soissons, and south of Laon, according to Berlin, which, however, fails to define the limits of the retirement accurately.
The French official statement of Friday night has not yet reached this country and the other side of the Berlin story is not known.

The German statement says the troops of the German crown prince systematically withdrew their line from the left wing of the Italian attack on the Tagliamento line, says the

AN ENLIGHTENED "THINKER" SAYS

"We stand today on the threshold of a great reform. We are facing a new dawn, a new day.

That reform is the triumph of temperance. The new dawn is PROHIBITION. The new day, SOBRIETY.

I shall vote for prohibition because underlying its tenets are the happiness of my fellowmen, the welfare of society, the betterment of the world.

I shall vote for prohibition as a protection to everything I hold near and dear, as a safeguard to all that I love and as an appeal to its helping hand when mine shall have withered away.

I shall vote for prohibition in Michigan as contributory to its adoption by my country. I shall hold fast to the thought that right must prevail, that drink is wrong. I shall set aside all contrary self-interests, friendships and associations and cling firmly to the inevitable truth that the world will be better when drink is doomed.

I shall vote for prohibition to avenge the toll that drink has exacted from its innocent victims. I shall vote for the widows the orphans made destitute through the ravage of intoxication, and those for whom I would shed my own blood could it but ease the pain, the suffering and the anguish it has brought them.

I shall invoke through my vote, a law that will help the weak win their battle. I shall exercise my franchise to accomplish that which prayers and supplications have failed to do. I shall vote to stem an evil that scorns respect, shirks duty and "takes off the rose from the fair forehead of an innocent love and sets a blister there."

I shall vote for better homes, better health and longer life. I shall vote for the young man who falls by the wayside—who cannot say no. I shall vote a better environment for the young women who want to live right and go straight, but whose path is made perilous by drink.

I shall vote for industry, for thrift, and for self respect. I shall vote for the worker, the toiler, that in time he may see the fruits of his labors and live as becomes his worth. I shall vote for better homes, better health and longer life. I shall vote for the restoration to its rightful owners of all that drink has confiscated—for the return of happiness and human faith.

That prohibition will conquer is as fixed as are the stars in the firmament. Temperance will prevail as the survival of truth, and with it will come the economic reward which has followed right thinking since man began.

Let your vote be a toast to a vanishing evil—a welcome to its doom.

We bear the cup no ill will. Many a time has it been raised to a noble cause and drained by noble men.

But you must go old comrade. You have made the world no better. You have cheered, but your cheer has chilled our hearts and blurred our vision. You have given hope, but your hope was false. You have given life, but your life was a lingering death.

For thousands of years we have tried you, but not once have you stood the test. Your philosophy is as empty as the brazen images which men forsook to worship God. The sorrows we have drowned in your shallow pool have mocked us when you were not near to deceive our mind and beguile our path.

The hopes you enkindle today vanish with the sordid reality of the morrow. Your sunshine has been devoid of life. There are no stars in your night. Yours is a pale, lifeless, glare enveloped in eternal gloom.

When the new day is at its zenith you will be among the memories of a dark and ignorant past. You will be classed with the pagan altars upon which were sacrificed human blood and human lives. Your cheer will be as forgotten as the fallen leaves in springtime and the only epitaph that will mark your time will be the scars you left upon our hearts. The world will forget you as you have so often forgotten those who fell beneath your blows.

Your passing will be the greatest blessing we have known since Christ. You have had your day and we bid you ne'er to return for we have come to the parting of the ways. We bear you no hatred for we tolerated you as a weak society truckles to a strong foe and we welcome the day when temperance will be emblazoned before us as was the sacred cross before the ancient Constantine, and we say one and in accord, "In Hoc Signo Vinces."

WANT 400 OHIO MEN FOR TRUCK TRAIN TO EMBARK FOR FRANCE

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Nov. 3.—A motor truck company will be recruited from Ohio men 18 to 40 years of age, organized and outfitted at Camp Sherman, and be immediately sent overseas for service in France. It was announced from Major General Glenn's headquarters yesterday.

Four hundred men experienced as drivers and mechanics are wanted immediately. They can enlist at any recruiting station in the state with the understanding that they will come to Camp Sherman as members of the Four Hundred and Eighth Truck company. Men subject to the draft, if not already called specifically for service, will be accepted.

If not enough men volunteer, selective draft men will be given a chance to enter the company. Captain Frazier has been detailed here to command the unit, and seven lieutenants from the quartermaster's corps will be assigned in the next few days.

Organization of the new company and probable chance for draftees getting to France very soon as members of it has aroused big interest in the cantonment here. There is scarcely a man yet who is not "itching" for a chance to get to the front.

That spirit is having some influence in keeping to a minimum the number of candidates for the officers' training camp that is to open here January 5. Drafted men will be given a chance to enter the next big officers' school, but already many have given up hope of getting a commission, believing that it will keep them in the states when they long to go to France.

Construction of an enormous theater that will seat 5,000 and three new camp exchanges have been started. All will be near the center of the camp along Columbus avenue, the chief thoroughfare through camp. Ground has been broken for the $75,000 Red Cross roadhouse also.

oncoming Austro-Germans. The eastern bank of the river, Berlin reports, has been cleared of Italians from the Fella valley, where the Tagliamento turns westward near Tolmezzo to the Adriatic.

Italian guns are bombarding the invaders along the new line, but apparently no attempt has yet been made by the Austro-Germans to force a crossing of the river. There are no indications as to the whereabouts of the Austro-Germans reported driving through the Carnic Alps early in the week in an attempt to turn the flank of the Tagliamento. Reports from Switzerland say the Germans are hurrying troops and guns into the Trentino. This might mean either to strengthen the Austrians or to start a drive south from Trentino in an attempt to cut off the Italians now on the Venetian plains.

Count von Hertling, it is announced officially from Berlin, has been appointed imperial German chancellor, in succession to Dr. Michaelis, who retires to another, but unnamed, official position. The new chancellor apparently has the support of all the reichstag elements except the socialists and the conservatives. The socialists, however, will give no active opposition until the count's policies are known more clearly.

Although the sector in which the American unit is being hardened to trench warfare is comparatively quiet one, there have been night-raiding parties on both sides—in which American soldiers participated—and if some have been taken prisoners it probably was on one of those nocturnal exploits when the raiders from the French trenches met up with a German patrol prowling about in No Man's Land.

The government has taken steps to be assured that American prisoners in German hands will fare as well as it is possible to arrange it and, indeed, their lot may be better than the average. Through Red Cross at Geneva the government has arranged to provide food and clothing for American prisoners so they may not be forced to depend on the insufficient scanty and constantly-shrinking bounty of the Germans.

SWISS CERTAIN OF FRIENDSHIP OF THE UNITED STATES

(Associated Press Telegram) New York, Nov. 3.—The Swiss commission which has been in this country for ten weeks and on Thursday bade farewell to President Wilson today issued a statement saying it was convinced Switzerland could rely on the friendship of the United States and look forward to the solution of the economic difficulties yet to be adjusted. The statement reads:

"Before leaving this country we wish to express to all the Americans in and out of public life who have so kindly received us a very cordial appreciation of their generous hospitality. We have everywhere felt the sympathetic warmth of the 'peculiarly friendly feelings' of our great sister republic of which the president was good enough to assure us on our arrival.

"Some difficulties in the economic relations between our two countries still remain to be adjusted and in the present crisis it is not impossible that others may from time to time arise.

"But in the course of our sojourn in this country we have had the satisfaction to note an ever increasing appreciation of the special exigencies of our trying situation. Moreover we know that we may rely on the friendship of the United States and confidently expect a mutually advantageous solution of all present and future problems. We know it, because this friendship is based on the solid foundations of the community of political and social ideas and principles which has ever united the oldest and the mightiest democracy and federative republics of the world."

RICKERT WRITES FROM FIRING LINE IN FRANCE

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Rickert have received a card from their son, Harold Rickert, who is in France with Company E, Second Regiment of Engineers. On the card he states that he had written six letters home, but the card has been the only one to come through. It is thought he sailed about September 5, and the postcard was written October 13. On the card he mentions that they are near the firing line and that he is all right.

FIRE NOT SERIOUS. (Associated Press Telegram) New Orleans, La., Nov. 3.—Special dispatches received here from Shreveport shortly before noon stated that the fire at Oil City, La., caused only slight damage and that it was under control by 11 a. m. Several small buildings were burned. Earlier reports said the city was threatened.

The Busch-Everett company in which Mr. Edward H. Everett is interested, had extensive holdings in the vicinity of Oil City but Mr. Jasper M. Necker announced today that Mr. Everett's interests there had been disposed of.

ANOTHER JOB FOR MICHAELIS. Copenhagen, Nov. 3.—The German emperor in a receipt to Dr. Michaelis, the retiring chancellor, expresses a desire to employ him further in the imperial service. It is understood that Dr. Michaelis will take over another high imperial office for which his qualifications are admitted generally.

Prohibition

HOW THEY LIKE IT WHERE THEY HAVE IT

EDITORIAL APPEARING IN

DENVER LABOR BULLETIN, ISSUE OF FEB. 3, 1917

"Elimination of Saloons Helpful to Labor"

Since the constitutional amendment providing for statewide prohibition in Colorado became effective January 1, 1916, it has been found that the law enacted to put the amendment in operation is defective in many ways. In fact, it is so full of holes that blind tigers and bootleggers have been able to walk through them and carry on their nefarious traffic ad libitum. Several measures have been proposed in the legislature to correct this evil, and no doubt when the Twenty-First General Assembly adjourns, a law will have been written into the statutes that will drive booze dispensers beyond the state borders.

Frequently, The Bulletin receives letters from other sections of the country asking what effect statewide prohibition has had upon wage-earners and the labor movement of Colorado. To these we are always pleased to reply that the law had worked a wonderful revolution for good, and that at least 75% of the union voters who were against the amendment would vote to retain it now should the occasion arise. Last fall when it was sought to amend the law to permit the manufacture and sale of beer in this state, the proposition was defeated by an adverse majority of 89,000 votes. There are more well fed, better clothed and happy families of working people in Colorado than ever before. Especially have members of organized labor realized during the past year the fallacy of that old slogan being "the poor man's club." They have discovered that this so-called "poor man's club" got a very large share of their earnings, which now goes to support the family or establish a bank account.

The Bulletin has no hesitancy in saying that on the whole the condition of Colorado working people is at least 50 per cent better as a result of statewide prohibition. The increase in savings deposits last year was truly remarkable, and retail merchants declare collections are from 40 to 60 per cent better under prohibition than when the saloon door stood wide open to invite the wage-earner bearing a pay envelope.

During the week preceding Christmas the banks of Denver paid out one-half million dollars to members of savings clubs, practically all of whom were wage earners. This great amount of money was really an accumulation that had hitherto been spent for liquor or its accessories.

Today it is practically impossible to find a member of organized labor in Colorado advocating a return of former conditions with the open saloon and its accompanying crime.

Take The Bulletin as a concrete illustration. It was prophesied by our "wet" friends that a labor paper couldn't exist in a dry community. We first about $50 a month in liquor advertising and some three hundred and fifty subscribers who were employed in the liquor industry. Last year, the first dry year in Colorado, our books show that The Bulletin did four times the advertising business and we have today on our mailing list three times as many subscribers as when Denver had 350 saloons and five breweries in operation. Besides the advertisers and subscribers pay their bills much more promptly and we don't have to degrade ourselves by "settling" 'em up to a crowd of bar-room flies when we go to collect a bill.

There has been a wonderful improvement in the moral tone of Denver since the Saloons were driven out. The city has been largely ridden of bums, pickpockets, gamblers and badge gangsters. In truth, it is much more of a privilege than ever before to live in Colorado, and laboring people in other states will find the same cause for congratulation when they drive the saloons, wholesale liquor vampires and breweries from their border.

FLETCHER SCOTT
IS A CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION

FLETCHER S. SCOTT.

Fletcher S. Scott, Justice of the Peace, is a candidate for re-election and asks all fair-minded voters to take that fact into consideration when casting their non-partisan judicial ballots on election day.

There are nine candidates for the office of Justice of the Peace and only one to be elected. It is the privilege of the voter to vote for the man whom he considers best fitted and equipped for that office. Fletcher S. Scott is a practicing attorney, admitted to the bar of the State of Ohio and has been eminently successful with all cases which have been entrusted to him.

Justice Scott comes before the voters of Newark township with an office record of which he is justly proud. His keen insight into the law has fitted him admirably for the office. His court is praised by attorneys who have occasion to transact business there, and seldom is a case carried to a higher court for his decisions will stand the crucial test and are rarely reversed.

Justice Scott now asks the voters of Newark township to return him to office for a second term, and he feels that he is entitled to that consideration on account of the impartiality with which he presides in trial cases and the precise and scrupulous attention which he gives to all business which comes into his office.

FRANK KNAUBER
FOR COUNCIL AT LARGE

The past acts of a man's life are to a great extent an indication of his action in the future. Men do not change radically.

Councilman Frank Knauber is before the voters as a candidate for re-election as councilman-at-large. Previous to his election to the council there had never been an attempt on the part of that body to collect delinquent special assessments on street paving, sewers, or sidewalks. He introduced such legislation and kept it at it, and in the subsequent delinquent tax sales in February each year they were sold.

It has resulted in the return of thousands of dollars to the sinking fund, and later used to pay city bonds maturing. On the 30th of July this year the state law making it mandatory on the part of the county treasurer to collect such or refuse to accept the regular taxes on the realty until the special assessments were paid, went into effect.

Councilman Knauber says: "If you make one pay, make all pay." Most of the time he has been a member of the council he has been chairman of the Law Committee. One month after he went into office the question of the gas charges was referred to the Law Committee. He took the stand for the consumers and every court of record in the United States has approved his contention. When a bill was offered in the council to give half of the fund, then accruing in escrow, to the gas company, he antagonized it on the grounds that if the consumer was entitled to a part of it he was entitled to all. His antagonism to the project to divide the funds ended in its defeat. The thousands of gas-consumers, who received their due from the overcharge, now appreciate his stand.

He has frequently called attention to the fact that the expenses of the city are growing faster than the revenues to meet them. Seeing the necessity of raising money in addition to taxation he insists, and if elected will insist, on payment for concessions, permits and licenses issued to private interests in the use of the streets and alleys of the city, and thus increase the revenue of the city. He insists that these privileges be appropriately taxed and the money so collected be placed in the street fund for the cleaning, repaving, and rebuilding of the city streets. He has introduced measures to that end, but all but one were defeated. The one which became a law provides for the payment of $1.00 per day for building material piled in the streets. It goes into effect April 1, 1918, and the revenue from it is to be paid into the street repair fund.

Important measures which he introduced and which have become law provide: A concrete base under all new street pavements; no new streets turn up for new house service for a period of five years; the city to replace all excavations for water, gas or sewers, and in a uniform and smooth way; all new additions inside the city limits must come in accordance with ordinance passed with pavements laid with concrete base, cement walks, sewers laid in alleys and all electric light poles and telephone poles to be placed in alleys. Also, that in proposed additions where it is not possible to lay sewers, septic tanks must be provided to take care of the sewage, and no cesspools or open closets allowed. The new city ordinances will save the city many thousands of dollars in the years to come.

Mr. Knauber has always looked after the financial interests of the city by reminding the council to take into consideration the possibility of finances in passing legislation. "Make sure first where the money is to come from before the legislation is passed," was his constant admonition. He has been a live-wire in the council and the voters of Newark can make no mistake in re-electing him. He has acquired a splendid knowledge of the city's affairs and its needs for the future.

He says, if re-elected, he will continue as in the past to be a conscientious and careful councilman for all the people of Newark, and not for any private interest. They will all look and fare alike with him.

Voters of Newark, if my record in the city council is satisfactory to you, vote for Frank Knauber for Councilman-at-Large, Republican ticket.

WILLIAM E. MILLER

Candidate for re-election to Board of Education makes statement to the public.

After several years membership of Board of Education, I consider it a great honor to be connected with a public school system of the high standard and reputation of the Newark schools.

Our schools have grown in reputation until they are recognized not only in Ohio but throughout the middle west as among the best public schools in the country.

During the years I have been a member of the Board, I have fearlessly advocated those things that have proven of worth to the schools. If re-elected, I shall continue to give the schools the best service of which I am capable.

I have always been in favor of well paid teachers, and only regret that the Board's finances have not permitted the board to pay higher salaries to teachers.

I have been in favor of good buildings, and think it is about time that the east should have better buildings than the two old buildings now in use on East Main street.

I favor progressive methods, progressive teachers, including principals, and superintendent and believe that such is our present school system.

My efforts shall be to work and vote for the best interest of the schools, and thus serve the highest interest of the children and the public.

Respectfully,
W. E. MILLER.

BANKER WARNS THAT AMERICANS MUST
SAVE DURING WAR

(Associated Press Telegram)
Philadelphia, Nov. 3.—With a warning that inflation already had begun, A. C. Miller, member of the federal reserve board, told the national conference on financing the war here today that American business must not undertake to carry the war as an "extra" but must exercise the vision and imagination necessary to see the great changes in economic organization essential to victory.

Mr. Miller pointed to the increase in federal reserve bank investments as evidence of the existence of inflation, partially responsible for the rise in commodity prices since the United States went to war and declared that if this increase continued it was not unreasonable to expect that before long the reserve system would be made into a great engine of banking inflation. He explained the process by which enormous inflation has been caused in Germany and France through government borrowing from the banks and added:

"Whether a similar result is to be expected here in connection with our greater government borrowings, and if so, how soon will largely depend upon whether all the people will have income enough to save will save, or whether they can be or will be made to save enough out of their incomes to absorb such loans of the government as may be put out in excess of the current savings fund of the nation."

"The obligations of a government, such as the United States, when considered purely from an investment point of view, are unquestionably the most eligible sort of investment. Estimating the annual actual savings of the American people at fifteen billion dollars, Mr. Miller suggested that twelve billions would be left to absorb loans after deducting three billion to meet war taxes. Since applications for the coming year aggregate some twenty billion, he said, five billions must be added to the nation's savings if the war's expenses are to be met.

Mr. Miller stated his opinion that it would require all of the economic resources of the country to win the war.

"I have it on competent authority," he said, "that it takes the labor of four men, working in industries of one kind or another producing military and other needed supplies, to maintain one soldier at the front. This means that an American army of one million men will require the output of four million men working in factory, field and foundry."

"I also have it on competent authority that the munitions, provisions and other maintenance that the armies and civilian populations of our allies in Europe must have from us, will require the output of more than ten million laborers working in this country."

"If we accept as approximately accurate the estimates of our present available labor supply as amounting to thirty million workers, the magnitude of the economic problems with which we are confronted is suggested by the requirement that one-half or more of our existing labor supply must during the war be devoted to the producing of materials and supplies to be consumed by our own and the armies of our allies and the civilian population of the nations in Europe which are dependent on us for part of their necessary keep."

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Editor of the Advocate.—I received the bronze medal all O. K. and was very much pleased with it. Beyond that I don't know how to thank the people of good old Licking county and the Advocate any better. I suppose you all would like to know how it is here in camp. Well, we got up at 5 a. m., made our hammocks up by 5:15 a. m. Then we take a cold shower bath, then six men clean up the barracks, and the rest wait around till 6:35, when we go to mess. But before I go any further I will tell you about our hammocks. They are eight feet from the floor and they have to be pulled up tight, and if you try to turn over you will pick yourself up off the floor. Every night somebody falls out and they have to go to the doctor and get patched up in the morning. It used to be when we saw a Jackie with his head tied up we thought he had been scrapping, but now we know what does it. After mess we either drill or have working parties and then we dig ditches or shovel coal or work in the galley (cook house). We go to church services every Sunday morning. We had a snow here Monday night. Could you find out where Amos Blank and Walter De France went?—Yours truly, Thomas W. Hayes, Co. E, 2d regiment, Camp Dewey, Great Lakes, Ill.

Walter De France, 22 Hancock street, is in the radio service, U. S. N., Camp Farragut, Chicago. We have no record of Amos Blank.—(Ed.)

Editor of the Advocate.—I received your medal quite a while ago and told father, a resident of Newark, to tell you I had received it. It is a very nice gift to give and one that will always be kept by me to know that there are some people in the city who are interested. I have been receiving the same right along and it is about the same as a good letter from home as you can do get the news. I am sending you a poem that I found in a Montgomery paper (The Journal), which was written by a boy in the Navy and it sure does fit the case.

Why didn't I wait to be drafted,
And be led to the train by a band,
And put in my claim for exemption,
And why didn't I wait for the hand?
Why didn't I wait for the hand?
Why didn't I wait to be drafted,
For the drafted men get all the credit
While I merely volunteered.

And nobody gave me a banquet,
Nobodies said a kind word,
The puff of the engine, the grind of
The wheels
Was all the goodby that I heard.
Then off to the training camp hustled
And in the shuffle forgotten,
I was only a volunteer.

And perhaps some day in the future
When my little boy sits at my knee,
And asks what I did in this great war?
And why didn't I wait for the hand?
I will have to look back in those eyes
That at me so trustingly peer,
And tell him I waited for the hand,
I was only a volunteer.

This was written by a boy from Montgomery who is in the Navy, a draftsman. — Yours truly George Walton, Bat. C, 134th U. S. F. A., Camp Sheridan, Ala.

GEN. PERSHING
PRAISES Y. M. C. A.
WORK IN FRANCE

In view of the campaign to be run in Licking County to raise funds for the war work of the Y. M. C. A. the following cable message recently sent by Gen. Pershing, in France is of interest:

"The work now being done by the Y. M. C. A. for the comfort and entertainment of our soldiers in France is very important. As an organization, its moral influence is highly beneficial. It performs a real service that makes for contentment. The Y. M. C. A. has won its place by unselfish personal devotion to the soldiers' welfare and deserves staunch support by our people at home."

The friends of the American Association are financing the work, both in America and abroad. Those who have had occasion to visit Camp Sherman have been thoroughly convinced of the value of the Y. M. C. A. work in the training camps in this country. The following statement from over seas is of interest:

"Our two huts are filled to overflowing every evening. We are supervising the work in a tent five miles away and need more secretaries. Just stopped to see an aeroplane go over. We have such a fine group of soldiers here—many of them college boys. Our huts are visited by great numbers of French soldiers, who love the music and fellowship with our Samies. We have the jolliest times together every night (not a few men, but thousands) mingling in song and entertainment, and some attempted conversation. The French folks and the American Samies may know little of what the other fellow is talking about, but they are very happy together. The French orchestra plays for us again Thursday evening."

"We are raising a fund among our Samies to restore the French church near our camp, completely destroyed three years ago. A thousand dollars will make it a church again."

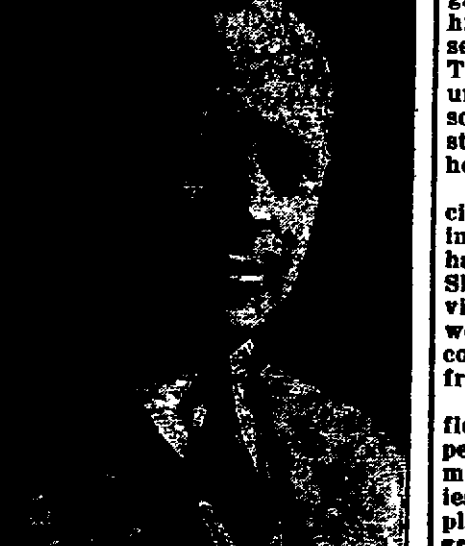

The following was found on one of our writing tables the other day: "In case of death to my person, I wish all deposits to be handed over to Y. M. C. A."

Licking county is to raise $30,000 half of it in Newark, half in the country.

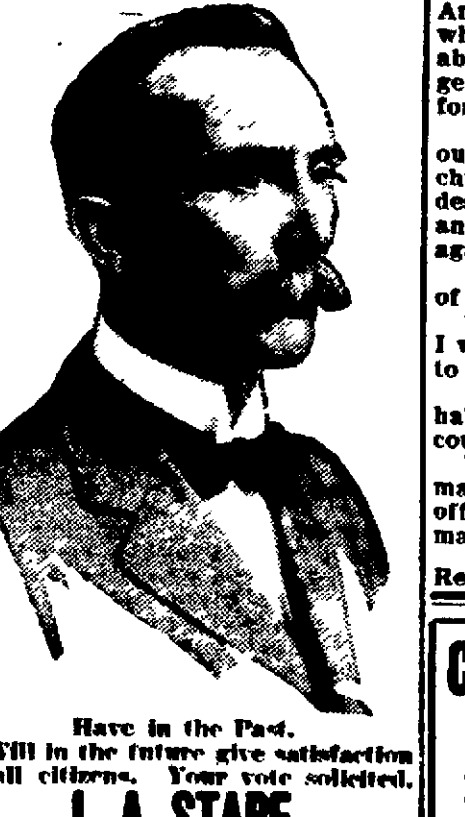

The proposed trip to Camp Sherman next Thursday has been declared off but it is possible that the trip may yet be arranged.

H. A. ("Gus") Atherton

Who stands for law enforcement in the strictest sense consistent with justice and good morals, by methods that will meet the approval and the co-operation of the people whose great desire is to make our city a model of good government and the pride of its home owners.

If Gus Atherton is elected Mayor of Newark, here are a few of the things he will do:

He will protect the interests of ALL the people of Newark—not merely the interests of the self-constituted guardians of Newark's progress.

He will make an earnest endeavor to see that ALL pay their paving, sewer and other improvement assessments—the wealthy man as well as the man who only owns his home.

He will insist upon a square deal for ALL the people—that the man who counts his lands by the acre shall have no more privileges than the man who, by frugality and thrift, has managed to become the owner of one house and lot.

He will insist that the finances of the city of Newark shall not be exploited for the benefit of those who have already enriched themselves at the expense of the wage-earners and home-owners.

He will insist upon the strictest economy consistent with efficiency.

In short, Gus Atherton will give the people of Newark an administration under which each citizen will bear his proportionate share of the expense of properly administering the affairs of the city and of MAKING NEWARK GROW.

Under Gus Atherton, the people of Newark will have "a government of the people, by the people and for the people"—not for the benefit of a "chosen few" who have already constituted themselves the "Guardians of Civic Progress."

Remember This.

One advertisement will not do the work, neither will two advertisements. It takes continuous advertising to bring home the bacon. That is the reason our large institutions are larger. They were small businesses a few years ago, but through continuous advertising they have grown to large institutions. Think this over.

LET EVERYBODY VOTE.

Important matters will come before the voters of Ohio for decision next Tuesday. It is more than a local election for the selection of mayors, members of school boards and other city and township officials, because two questions of nationwide interest are to be determined, so far as Ohio is concerned. One is woman suffrage, the other prohibition.

It makes no difference whether one favors equal suffrage or is opposed to it, it does not matter whether the voter is "wet" or "dry," it is his duty, his important duty, to go to the polls on Tuesday, November 6, and register his position. Matters of such consequence should be decided by the entire voting population, not by a small majority. Comparatively little interest was taken in the local campaign until recently, but everybody seems to be "talking politics" now, and all signs point to a large vote on Tuesday. People in the rural sections are especially interested in the suffrage and prohibition features of the election and word comes from all parts of the county that the vote in the country districts will be out in force on November 6.

Gus Atherton, early in his campaign, announced that it is his ambition to be elected mayor of Newark in order that he may give the city a business-like administration and to correct some of the mistakes of the past. He has announced that he will take into his confidence a number of the leading men of the city. If he is elected, and will be guided by their advice in the important work of the administration.

The Democratic and Republican parties are both on record as favoring equal suffrage. President Wilson, in a recent statement, strongly urged its adoption by the several states. The Ohio legislature has given women in this state the right to vote at presidential elections and this measure is now before the voters for approval or rejection next Tuesday. Equal suffrage deserves to win.

H. L. Williams, druggist, candidate for president of the council on the Democratic ticket, is well qualified in every way to serve as presiding officer of the city council.

CLYDE M. HARE.

Clyde M. Hare, proprietor of the Auditorium garage, is the Democratic candidate for city auditor. He was born September 30, 1878, in a log cabin among the hills of Guernsey county, later removing with his parents to Zanesville—his father, O. A. Hare, being foreman of the Times-Recorder of that city for a number of years—Clyde acquiring his early education in the public schools of that place.

In 1899, Mr. Hare removed with his parents to Jewett, Harrison county, O., where his father engaged in the printing and publishing business, afterwards merging into the Harrison County Democrat at Cadiz, O., as associated editor. The son was actively identified with both establishments.

Mr. Hare graduated from the Jewett high school with class honors and having received a teachers' certificate the year previous, taught school in Harrison county three years, and then removed to Newark in 1901 where he accepted a responsible position with the Jewett Car company for a number of years.

He was also identified with the Evans Supply company, leaving them to embark in the automobile business for himself, and in which he has been actively engaged for the past eight years, and is one of the city's younger successful business men. He has built a number of houses in the western part of the city, and in so doing, has added a substantial sum to the city tax duplicate.

Mr. Hare numbers his friends by legion and is an enthusiastic fraternity man, being a member of B. P. O. E. lodge, No. 331; the Modern Woodmen, a past chancellor of No. 13, K. of P.; uniform rank, K. of P. No. 121; Acme Lodge of Masons, No. 554; Bigelow Council, No. 7; Warren Chapter, No. 6; St. Luke's Commandery, Knights Templar, No. 34; Licking County Association, Scottish Rite, N. M. J.; Scioto Valley and Licking County Shrine club of Aladdin Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S.

The policy of Mr. Hare has always been to boost Newark, and he has always been ready to lend a helping hand in anything that would be of benefit to the city. A vote for him will be appreciated. He is competent in every way, and if elected will prove a painstaking official, bringing to the office a business experience which qualifies him in every way for the position which he seeks.

The municipal campaign now coming to a close has been free from the disgusting personalities that have characterized many political battles of the past. The three candidates for mayor—H. A. Atherton, Democrat; David H. Murphy, Republican, and Elmer Jordan, Independent—have treated the opposition with fairness and consideration so that the voters have not been confused by the circulation of a mass of misinformation. The average man understands the situation and will use his judgment in marking his ballot.

Some Newark women who have been asked to sign food-pledge cards have declined to do so for fear that it means contribution of their food supply. Nothing could be farther from the truth. This is merely a campaign of education, a campaign to teach food conservation and substitution in order that America may send as great a quantity of food to our allies as possible. No woman should be asked for a moment to sign a food-pledge card. It will help us to win the war.

Clyde M. Hare is in every way competent to handle the affairs of the city auditor's office. Vote for Mr. Hare next Tuesday.

D. H. Alspach, P. W. Faust, and L. A. Stare, candidates for council, present at large, deserve to be elected next Tuesday.

M. J. Reese may be depended upon to handle the business of the city treasury in a thorough business-like way.

Henry C. Ashcraft is a clean and able young lawyer who will make a good city solicitor.

WHY SHOULD I GO TO CHURCH TOMORROW?

BECAUSE it is a God-appointed means for the uplift and the strengthening of the soul. God places the opportunity for the cultivation of my soul powers within my reach; I am held responsible for the use of these opportunities. Soul powers are capable of cultivation and development, the obligation is laid upon me to give my soul every advantage within reach of me. The church and its fellowships are among the best influences at my command.

BECAUSE the church is a God-ordained institution to meet a necessity of my being. Because it is a necessity, God, throughout both Old Testament history and New Testament teaching, has made attendance upon public worship at stated times imperative, not optional. It is not what I may desire, but what God commands. His commands are always for my good—hence the command.

BECAUSE it places me in touch, in sympathy, in aims, in fellowship with the best people in any community. True, many church-goers are inferior to some non-church-goers; but the first are doubtless better because of their church-going. Besides, if all men were divided strictly into church-goers and non-church-goers I should want to choose to be identified with the former.

THEREFORE, my Soul, choose for tomorrow the church whose fellowship makes the strongest appeal to you; let us together enter its portals, reverently worship God there, hear the messages proclaimed, and experience a satisfaction and confidence that will enrich the whole week before us.

SUFFRAGE.

If this country had been at war six years instead of six months women would be voting in all the states of the Union. If the country had been at war for three years New York would be certain to vote for suffrage week after next. Suffering and self-sacrifice bring people to a sense of their common humanity and decrease the antagonisms of politics, religion and sex.—The New Republic.

Put Ohio where she belongs by voting for the Reynolds act next Tuesday. Equal suffrage has the endorsement of both of the leading political parties. The Reynolds law should be upheld.

Henry C. Ashcraft is meeting with the greatest assurances of support in every section of the city. He has made not only an aggressive campaign, but a clean and manly one. He has impressed the voters as being eminently qualified in every way for the office for which he is a candidate—that of city solicitor. His years of active practice in the courts of Licking county and his familiarity with the state code is an assurance that the taxpayers' interests would be safely guarded should he be elected—as he most assuredly will be—to the office of city solicitor.

Hon. William E. Miller, president of the Newark board of education, is a candidate for re-election next Tuesday on the non-partisan ticket. Mr. Miller has for many years taken a deep interest in the program of the Newark schools and has been a valuable member of the board.

No organization performed greater service for the country in the recent Liberty Loan campaign than the Boy Scouts of America and the Newark members of this splendid organization did their full share of the work.

Here are the Democratic candidates for members of the city council: Ernest Settles, J. Philip Baker, Carl S. Yontz, Geo. Grindle, E. L. Curry. They deserve support and election.

PRONOUNCING CANTONMENT.

(Washington Cor. Chicago Tribune.) President Wilson pronounces "can't-n-wit, accent on the first syllable, and so does Secretary of War Baker; the other War Department officials pronounce it can-tonment, accent on the second syllable, because they got started that way and can't stop, though they know it is not the preferred pronunciation. Dr. Theodore W. Hunt, Professor of English at Princeton, approves "can-tonment," with the accent on the second syllable and the "n" as in the word bond.

The President and Secretary Baker are supported by the Center, Webster's, Worcester's and Fernald's 1917 revision of the comprehensive Standard Dictionary, while Sir James A. H. Murray's new English Dictionary (of Oxford University) and the Imperial and Stormont's Dictionary side with Dr. Hunt.

Nothing but current usage justifies "can-tonment." In spite of the fact that 54 per cent of the United States army and Government officials at Washington are pronouncing it that way.

DISEASE IS EVER THE SAME

And in view of this fact a medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which has been successful for more than 40 years, is a safe one to rely upon. Hood's Sarsaparilla is known to the people of America as the standard blood purifier. Its record is one of general satisfaction and remarkable results. There is nothing better as a general tonic and appetite-maker for weak and run-down men, women and children and old people, invalids and convalescents. It is pleasant to take, aids digestion, and supplies the vital organs with rich red blood essential to perfect health. Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today and begin to take it at once.—Advertisement.

NO SUGAR FAMINE.

When people begin to feel panic about the sugar supply, and some unscrupulous retailers take advantage of their fears and demand extortionate prices, it is time for users to "stop, look and listen." If they do this, they will quickly feel better. About the middle of September the food administration requested the people to reduce consumption for a few weeks, and explained the reason why it was necessary. Apparently, little attention was paid to this appeal. The public could stand it to part with thousands of young men destined for the front, but could not give up or curtail its use of sugar. What Mr. Hoover warned us against is now here.

But the shortage is merely temporary. There is sugar enough growing in the world to supply our needs. We have a record crop of sugar beets growing, and the harvest season usually opens the first of October. That sugar should be on the market before the first of November and relieve any shortage. In the meantime the available sugar will be distributed as equitably as possible so that none need go without.

Our main reliance of course, is the supply from Cuba, Porto Rico and Hawaii. Those crops are good, and will be harvested and the refined sugar on the market long before the beet sugar can be marketed. Indeed, there should be but a few weeks between the appearance of the two kinds of new sugar. There is no fear for the future whatever, the only question is a little inconvenience for a few weeks now.

The solution of the present inconvenience rests largely with the people. There is no hoarding by refiners or wholesalers. There is no increase in the wholesale price of sugar. The supply available will be distributed to retailers as equitably as possible and at the usual price. There is no excuse for them to sell at a price higher than usual, although it might be proper for them to limit amount to each customer. The customers, for their part can best meet the situation by buying for present needs, refusing to pay unreasonable prices, and above all, reducing their own consumption, which can be done without any real inconvenience.

Spirit of the Press

Signing a Good Pledge.

This week ought to see the American home women's roll of honor complete. If it is an American home its signature should be attached to the pledge asked by the Food Administration—a pledge which carries no obligation except to promote economy in the kitchen in accordance with the suggestions of the government. By signing and observing this pledge a valuable war service is rendered the country and self-interest at the same time is served, for the sort of economy that the Food Administration urges is the sort of economy that the average home needs. The Courier-Journal has not the least doubt that the women, stucklers in nothing since the war began, will do their full duty in this matter as gladly as devotedly.

Mr. Sackett, the Food Administrator for Kentucky, for the second time issues a warning that persistent time-laggers are trying to make a failure of this movement by circulating the lie that signers of these pledge cards put themselves in a position to have their canned foods confiscated by the government. When the government confiscates anything it does not ask anybody's permission. This contemptible report is only another of the sneaking tricks by which the kaiserites among us plot against America and seek to do their masters' bidding. It will only make the American woman the more eager to sign this pledge.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Dry Capital.

November 1, the capital of the Nation becomes dry. What a grand thing it would be if the capital of Ohio would follow suit and become dry, too! If the people appreciate their duty fully they will vote next Tuesday to make it so. There is nothing so oppressive to the people as having the Legislature center a liquor-selling town. In the making of the laws the liquor takes a hand, which accounts for so many weak, vacillating, needless laws. The very fact that a saloon is near a Legislature tends to make that Legislature impotent and negative body. A legislator who frequents a saloon is a real harm to the Legislature. He cannot be counted upon. The fact that we have laws that the Supreme Court must interpret and the further fact that important legislation is put off to the last day are in some measure because the liquor traffic is close by. And then think how politics will be improved by a saloonless town.—Ohio State Journal.

Duty of Labor.

A dry Ohio would do more to conserve the food than any remedy that could be suggested. There is such a loss of labor from drink that the higher grade of labor is trying everywhere to suppress the traffic. It is especially injurious to the coal product. In a convention of 1700 coal holders in Pittsburgh it was reported that the coal product decreased 20 to 50 per cent, according to localities, owing to drink, and they petitioned the government to create a five-mile dry zone about every mine in the United States. Much of the suffering from cold this winter may be explained by the prevalence of the drink habit about mines. When saloons are abolished, the wealth producing power of labor increases. Labor cannot prosper when liquor has sway, for it fills the ranks of labor with inefficient and ignorant men. What every laboring man should do is to vote yes on the constitutional amendment next Tuesday.—Ohio State Journal.

MUSIC

Miss Florence King has just completed her annual series of twilight organ recitals. These free recitals because of their distinct educational value deserve more than ordinary mention. Miss King, lecturer, writer, organist, is a woman of rare musical attainments who has performed a large amount of musical work for the community and for the church. A member of the old music society during the years when the musical activities of the town were dormant, she ever stood for all the best and finest in the annals of our musical history. For 20 years she has been organist of the Second Presbyterian church and in the last 12 years has given 52 free organ recitals. Through her devotion to such ideal she has brought to our doors such music as Clarence Eddy with tireless energy has lifted her choir to a standard not surpassed by any like choir in the city.

In addition to her pupils' recitals she has regularly presented two cantatas a year: such works as Gounod's "Holy City," "Ruth," "Ten Virgins," Barnby's "The Captive," "Memories," "Liza Lemon's 'Daisy Chain,' and Lane Wilson's "Wedding Day," now in preparation. Her lecture recital "The Pies of Pan," has been given before many audiences. For ten years she coached the senior school and for the same length of time the annual play for the Monday Talks. Evenings of Mendelssohn, Haydn and Handel are planned for the winter in the church auditorium. Her annual twilight organ recitals given through the month of October have for years been a feature of the musical life of the town and as such have proven a real treat to lovers of organ music. When one reflects upon these activities, the amount of time spent in preparation and also reflects that these entertainments have been given joyfully to the community, we begin to realize what a debt we owe this unselfish woman. An example of faithful service and lofty idealism can not be to an inspiration to those disciples of artistic expression who are seeking an outlet for the cure of their own souls. The Civic Choral Society will give a concert at the high school auditorium, Tuesday evening, Nov. 27.

Mr. Voter, Attention!

Do You Want to Take the Vote Away from Your Mother, Your Wife, Your Daughter, Your Sister?

The last legislature gave women the right to vote for Presidential Electors. You are asked by a Referendum Petition to take away this right on November 6th.

Is This An Honest Referendum?

NO! The Ohio Woman Suffrage Association has proof enough of forgery and fraud to throw out the whole petition.

Why Was the Petition Not Thrown Out?

Because the courts and the secretary of state have not given us a hearing on the general petition. We were given a hearing in only four counties, Scioto, Trumbull, Mahoning and Cuyahoga. Out of 9,964 names in these counties, the courts threw out 8,061 as being fraudulent. Similar proportions would have been thrown out in every county in the state if we had been given a hearing.

Do These Petitions Represent the People?

NO! They represent a special interest. 581 petitions were circulated by saloonkeepers and bartenders. 246 petitions were circulated by employees of the breweries, the Personal Liberty League and by men closely allied with the liquor interests. This referendum is the work of the organized liquor ring. The people of Ohio did not ask for it.

Nearly one-fourth of all the names were obtained in Cincinnati alone. Circulators had to resort to fraud and forgery to get the petitions filled. Though these petitions were formally filed by the Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, NOT ONE WOMAN CIRCULATED A PETITION!

Will You Let Such a Referendum Succeed?

BE TRUE TO YOUR PARTY'S PLEDGES

(Woman Suffrage For Presidential Electors)
The Act, known as the Reynolds Act, approved by the Governor on February 21, 1917, and filed with the Secretary of State February 21, 1917, amends Sections 4562 and 4949 of the General Code of Ohio. Said act provides that women may vote and be voted for, for presidential electors.

HURLEY HUSTLES, SHIPS ARE BUILT

Makes Things Hum on the United States Shipping Board.

HAS BIGGEST JOB IN COUNTRY

By Next Spring He Will Have 10,000,000 Deadweight Tons of Carrying Capacity on the Seas—Sweeps All Obstacles Aside and Puts Speed and Energy Into Work.

Ask President Wilson whom he considers his most dynamic, driving lieutenant in the prosecution of the nation's war aims and nine chances out of ten he will answer "Edward N. Hurley." Not that it would be an easy matter to pick out the hardest-working bundle of energy enlisted in the government's war work, for there are dozens, even hundreds, of men in Washington who can accomplish more in less time than 99 out of every 100 men in the country. But Hurley not only does things—you know he is doing them.

As chairman of the United States shipping board Mr. Hurley tackled one of the biggest and hardest jobs the president had to bestow.

Buckled Down to Job.

When Hurley first took his place about the extent of his knowledge of ships was that they were hollow and floated and carried cargoes. The controversies between his predecessor, William Denman, and General Goethals, head of the Emergency Fleet corporation, had not served to leave the affairs of the board in very good shape for a novice to handle. But Mr. Hurley buckled down, asked a lot of questions and got a fair idea of what it meant to build ships. Then he said something like this:

Edward N. Hurley.

"I don't know a thing about building ships, but I do know that the United States has got to have them and I am going to see that she gets them. There are plenty of experts to take care of the technical side, and I will see that the experts are on the job and keep moving."

Then Mr. Hurley held a long conference with Admiral Capps, chief of the Emergency Fleet corporation. The men sized up each other, smiled in a satisfied way and shook hands. There was nothing said just then, but both men understood that no clashes of authority, no technicalities and no trite matters of etiquette would be allowed to retard the government's shipbuilding plans.

Began to Make Things Hum.

With a full understanding between himself and Admiral Capps, the new chairman, fairly bristling with energy, began to make things hum. He surrounded himself with men just as forceful and earnest as himself; he conferred with all the big shipping men in the country; he made new plans for speeding up work; smoothed out wrinkles that had retarded the old program—in short, he was there and everywhere, giving a shoulder to the wheel whenever and wherever occasion seemed to demand. He tackled every problem fearlessly and quickly let the shipbuilders, ship owners, contractors and labor unions know that he was working for Uncle Sam, and would not be bluffed or bullied by anybody.

Mr. Hurley does not have much to say, but when he says it he means it and people move quickly. If President Wilson told him it would be necessary to dig up the state of Texas and move it over to Europe in one piece Mr. Hurley would tackle the job—and very likely would find some way to accomplish the task.

And that is the reason why the United States will have something like 10,000,000 deadweight tons of carrying capacity on the seas by next spring with which to ship troops and supplies to Europe to win the war.

Secret Service Will Help Hoover.

President Wilson has granted the request of Food Administrator Herbert C. Hoover to use the men and the resources of the secret service in running down food speculators and profiteers.

German Pastor Indicted for Treason.

Rev. John Reichert, pastor of the German Lutheran church at Lowden, Ill., has been indicted for treason, along with Ernest Mier of the same city.

Some people are so formal that they even refuse to bow to the inevitable without an introduction.

POSTOFFICE AUTHORITIES WATCH PEACE DERIVISHES

Activities of Undesirables Throw Immense Amount of Work on Federal Officers.

The German propagandists and the peace-at-any-price promoters are creating an immense amount of additional labor for the office of William H. Lamar, solicitor for the post office department. The activities of these undesirable citizens in the pursuit of their fanatical fancies have made the post office department an important adjunct of the national police system.

Immense quantities of all classes of mail are now daily going through the process of government scrutiny, with a view to apprehending all literature contained in newspapers, magazines, circular letters and even first class mail that presents the slightest suspicion of sedition and disloyalty.

Not a great deal of this matter is being unearthed, but this fact does not tend to cause a relenting of the vigilance of the federal officers, who are constantly on the alert, and daily increasing the scope of their search. Everything that is discovered in the mails to savor of disloyalty and sedition is being promptly forwarded to the secret service bureaus of the government for such action as the instance will merit.

The extent to which these disloyal and treacherous fanatics operate, as revealed by the disclosures of the post office, is so small that no uneasiness is felt that there is any chance of it becoming a serious matter in any section of the country.

POLAND SUFFERS FAMINE

German Denials Asserted to Be at Variance With Truth.

In an effort to contradict statements made by the Warsaw town council and a Danish relief expedition the German government has issued an official denial of reports that famine exists in Poland. A representative of the Warsaw council is in Copenhagen trying to arrange for the sending of food supply by way of Denmark, and has painted an appalling picture of conditions in his native land.

Even the reichstag is in possession of facts proving the fallacy of the German statement. Mortality in Polish cities, due to lack of nutrition, is asserted to be frightful. Poland still is compelled to feed the army of occupation.

BIG COAL LAND DEAL

Tract of 54,000 Acres in Tennessee Changes Hands.

Purchase of a tract of 54,000 acres of coal land in Scott county, near Oneida, by A. B. Day and John F. Shea of Knoxville has been announced at Knoxville, Tenn. The tract is said to be the largest single coal property in the South and more than $500,000 is involved in the deal.

Five coal operations already have been opened on the tract and additional development work is in progress.

The tract is near the Glen Mary oil gushers and the new owners expect to sink oil wells that will yield a produce time flow.

CONVICTS MAKE GOOD

Win Snug List of Honors in the British Army.

Convicts in the royal armies seem to be making good. If the list of honors won by these men is a criterion, they are indeed second to none in valor and fighting spirit. Almost 7,000 have enlisted since the beginning of the war. Of these, three received the Victoria Cross, twenty-five received the D. S. O. and twenty have been mentioned in dispatches. The former convicts have consistently shone in the greatest battles and it is reported that over half of them have been killed, and a big percentage of the remainder carry wound stripes on their arms.

COTTON PICKERS PROSPER

Make From $3 to $4 a Day in Many Sections of South.

Cotton pickers are making $3 and $4 a day in many sections of the South. A few years ago such amounts would have represented pay for a week. Thousands of cotton pickers are needed to gather the fleecy staple. Cotton is commanding more than 20 cents a pound, compared with ten cents a few years ago. Time was when 72 cents to $1 a hundred pounds was considered high wages for picking, but today pickers are paid from $1.50 to $1.75 a hundred.

GET MARRYING CRAZE

Teachers in Chicago Public Schools Become Brides.

Matrimony in the ranks of Chicago school teachers has almost doubled since last year, when there wasn't any war. The number of "school-mum" brides this year is 106, as compared with 61 last year.

Clerks who have talked to the teachers claim that the kaiser and his war are to blame.

Many of the newly married teachers have made application to be allowed to continue teaching during the war.

Typhoon and Flood Swept Japan.

Two hundred thousand people were made homeless by the typhoon and flood which swept Japan, causing 2,174 deaths and injury to 770 residents in towns along the coast.

The political spellbinder may boast of his family tree, but he often has to take the stump.

DIDN'T KNOW ABOUT WAR

Sheep Herder From Western Texas Had Hazy Recollection of Hostilities.

Tom Whit, sheep herder on a ranch in northern Texas, knew nothing about the war until a sheriff arrested him for failure to register. He was found 50 miles from the nearest railroad stop on a ranch northwest of Sulist. He was taken to San Antonio, where he was released under $500 bond.

Whit said that he had a hazy recollection of fighting that was going on somewhere, but had no idea that the United States was mixed up in it. He had not seen a newspaper for more than a year and the few Mexicans he had seen told him nothing of the outside world. It is believed that there are many sheep herders in that section who failed to register through ignorance of the fact that the United States is at war.

It's one thing to teach the young idea how to shoot, but quite another matter to keep him in ammunition.

AMERICANS LEAD IN WAR WEAPONS

Engines of Destruction Invented in This Country.

LONG LIST OF GENIUSES

For a Peace-Loving People Americans Have Been Quick in Giving to World Most Powerful and Ingenious Weapons—Airplane, Submarine and Lewis Gun Devised Here.

The invention of the airplane, the submarine, the Lewis machine gun and other destructive agencies of war emphasizes the fact that though Americans may be a peace-loving people they have been quick in bringing into the world the most powerful and ingenious weapons.

Away back in the days of the American Revolution American small arms were famous, and these guns caused General Howe to write home about "the terrible guns of the rebels." At that time Americans were a nation of gunmakers and gun users, and an authority has written:

"In the colonial days the residents of the Atlantic seaboard were the greatest users of guns of their period, and gunmakers' shops were in every city and town. With little knowledge of the science of ballistics, these men perfected the American rifle that was a factor of great moment in the Revolution when wielded by the sharpshooters, keen-eyed men of the colonies." American Inventor's Revolver.

From about 1800 until a period near the time of the outbreak of the Civil war the Jager rifle, made at the United States arsenal and rifle factory at Harper's Ferry, and generally known as the "Harper's Ferry rifle," stood at the head of the list for efficiency as a military rifle.

It was an American who invented the revolver. Colonel Samuel Colt's first vital patent was taken out in 1835, but at the beginning the army and navy officers looked with suspicion or aversion upon the device. The Seminole war, in 1837, gave the inventor his first opportunity, and his revolver proved effective in terrifying the Indians of Florida.

It came into use in large numbers during the Mexican war in the hands of Texas Rangers. The revolver of that period was far different from the type of today. The powder had to be dropped into six holes, the bullets then placed on top and rammed down by a lever; percussion caps affixed back of each charge and the hammer pulled back after each shot.

Invention of Gatling.

Then there was the invention of Richard J. Gatling, who brought forth the first serviceable machine gun of the world. A writer on military weapons has said that "in the Yankee group of inventors ranks Eliphalet Remington, Jr., of the same period as Colt; Maxim of Maine, the inventor of England's best rapid-fire gun, and Parrott, who made the great smoothbores of the last century."

Among Americans who did much for the development of heavy ordnance were Dahlgren and Rodman, inventors and designers of the most effective big guns of the Civil war, and Colonel Bomford of New York, who designed and superintended the building of the great columbiads.

FAN TAN GUM IS NOT OF THE ORDINARY KIND

It is real snappy, rubbery gum made of pure old-fashioned chicle—which has its own honey-like flavor. Strong pungent flavors, such as peppermint, wintergreen, cinnamon, spearmint, etc., are used to cover the rosin taste of substitutes. The flavor of FAN TAN is so delicate, so sweet that it blends into a delicious bouquet with the flavor of the pure chicle, and remember it costs you no more than ordinary gum.

Welcoming a New Screen Recruit

DIRECTOR TOURNEUR GREETING ELSIE FERGUSON

One of the latest motion picture recruits is none other than Elsie Ferguson, the beautiful stage favorite, who has at last deserted the few remaining celebrities of the spoken drama who have repeatedly refused to appear in the silent art. After a triumphant career on the stage Miss Ferguson comes to the cinema with probably the greatest histrionic talents ever displayed on the American stage. Her first motion picture to be released by Artcraft in the near future is an adaptation from Robert Hichens' popular novel, "Barbary Sheep."

AMUSEMENTS

ALHAMBRA. Sunday.

Floriano Amidon, a young banker of retiring personality, religiously inclined, is highly respected and sought after in his home town. On a trip he is held up by thugs and receives a severe blow on the head.

Five years elapse. Amidon, on his way to New York, falls from his Pullman berth in a dazed state. He has no recollection of the five elapsed years. He discovers that he is in strange clothes and is addressed as "Mr. Brassfield." Letters in his pockets and markings on bags substantiate this. Amidon's canvas account of the remarkable change. Even the newspapers are dated 1916. The last he remembers is 1910.

Monday and Tuesday.

Corsica, the little island in the Mediterranean which gave birth to the greatest military genius of the world, Napoleon Bonaparte, is the historic background for "To the Death," the five-act Metro wonderplay starring Mimi Petrova, which will be seen at the Alhambra theater Monday and Tuesday.

Great pains have been taken and no amount of expenditure has been spared to reproduce with absolute fidelity the island's wonderful scenes of nature and architecture.

One of the special features involved the reconstruction of the village of Corsica, where most of the scenes of the drama are laid. True to nature in every detail the village was rebuilt at Whitestone Landing, L. I. Photographs were made of the island of Corsica and in many cases architectural drawings and whole plans were prepared on the spot to get the true historic background.

Wednesday and Thursday.

When "The Corner Grocer" comes to the Alhambra next Wednesday and Thursday the people of this city will have the opportunity of seeing Lew Fields, the famous master of comedy and characterization, in one of the most successful roles of his screen career. They will also have the opportunity of seeing the adorable Madge Evans in a particularly likable role.

"The Corner Grocer" is a drama of the heart. It tells the story of the rise of Charles Wendel, the corner grocer—his rise being due to his hard work. It also tells of his fall, due to his son's foolishness and criminality. Then it tells of the son's redemption and of his love for the beautiful girl who had been adopted by Wendel and who had grown up in the household. It is a very human, very interesting story which is told in this drama and all those people who see it will be delighted.

ELSIE FERGUSON IN ALGERIA

A daily trip to Algeria from New York means a matter of twenty minutes to Elsie Ferguson, the popular stage beauty. Miss Ferguson's home is in New York city, and soon after breakfast each day she finds herself amid palm trees, dark skinned people, camels and Algerian architecture. Of course such a thing is only possible in motion pictures, and that is just why Miss Ferguson journeys each day to Algeria—over in Fort Lee, N. J. Here the town of El-Akbara has been built for her first Artcraft picture, "Barbary Sheep," adapted from Robert Hichens' famous book. In staging this production Director Maurice Tourneur, who some time ago spent several years in the northern part of Africa, disturbed much of the New Jersey landscape near Fort Lee and in its place erected a queer looking town that attracted wide attention among the peaceful citizens of the mosquito state.

Lodges

K. OF P.

Roland Lodge.

Only a mere handful of Knights attended the meeting on Tuesday evening, but all enjoyed a most profitable session. Several visitors were present and made remarks. Brother Milliner of Indianapolis, representing the board of control of the supreme lodge, gave a talk which will long be remembered by those who had the good fortune to hear him. He has visited 97 lodges all over the country this year, and brought a cheerful message regarding the growth of the order in general. Brother Jno. Stroup, who has taken an active interest in Roland Lodge for a number of years, will shortly remove to Indianapolis to make his future home. His loss will be keenly felt by this lodge, but all unite in wishing him success in his new field of labor. There will be no degree work next Tuesday evening, but the Page rank in scheduled for November 13.

Newark Lodge.

Newark Lodge No. 13 met Thursday evening with good attendance. While routine business was light, there were some matters of importance taken up and discussed. The relief committee reports the sick members improving. One applicant was elected to membership. Six esquires were duly initiated in the rank and knight and all seemed to enjoy the work to the fullest degree. The master of work announces that the page rank will be conferred four weeks from this meeting and the lesson of friendship will be put on in the new form. Every member that has not seen this work should make an extra effort to be present and witness it.

W. B. A. of M.

The members of Newark Review, No. 455, and White Carnation No.

68 of Maccabees held a called meeting Thursday afternoon with Deputy Elizabeth Schram of Bridgeport, present. The object of this meeting was to plan for the district rally to be held here, December 10, with supreme and grand lodge officers present. The members of both Reviews will meet Wednesday afternoon, November 7.

Modern Woodmen.

Cedar Camp, No. 4727 M. W. of A. met Wednesday night with a good attendance. Six applications for beneficial membership were acted upon. Members Harry Headley and John A. Richardson were reported confined to the house. The officers and forester team are working hard to get ready for the big district class adoption which will be held at Zanesville November 20. They have been selected to confer the adoption ceremony on this class. Candidates will be adopted from all the camps in the district, Newark, Zanesville, McConeville, Cambridge, Hebron, Pataskala, Johnstown, Alexandria, Utica, Croton and Gratiot. If enough members desire to go on this night, the camp will secure a special car, but no half way promises will be considered. All members who desire to go must leave their car fare with the clerk. The clerk reported that he secured $500 worth of Liberty Bonds for the camp and also $300 Liberty Bonds for the Forester team. His action was approved.

Sweaters for the Kaiser

By Caroline Ticknor of The Vigilantes. Just now there is a big drive on to secure sweaters for our boys in camp, and for those going off to France. Our soldiers, who are going out to stand between us and the guns are cold. The Red Cross is calling for a million helmets and sweaters, and thousands of devoted women are working over-time trying to fill this great demand. Wool is expensive, some of our women are going without the things they want, yet need, in order that they may buy it. Some of our women would gladly knit if they could buy the necessary wool but they have not the money. And in the meantime, there are thousands of women able-bodied, and well-to-do, knitting pre-German sweaters for themselves. Knitting for Germany! A few days since I visited the worsted counters of several of our big department stores to get some wool to finish up a soldier's sweater. Before these counters I found that women were lined up three-deep purchasing wool and needles. I looked at them with satisfaction; our women were certainly awake to the needs of our boys. And then I suddenly discovered that they were buying pale-greens, and pinks, and blues; only one woman in a dozen was calling for the gray, or khaki. These were the scraps of conversation which greeted my astonished ears:—"I'm going to make mine yellow, lined with white." "Well, you look sweet in green." "I've got a pattern that fits me like a glove." "I've made me a red one, and a blue, and now I'm going to make a black." I turned away in wonder. I couldn't at first understand. They were well-dressed, well-fed and seemingly intelligent and well-intentioned. What was the explanation? There must be some sufficient reason. Suddenly, all in an instant, the answer was flashed upon me. They are knitting for Germany. They're making sweaters for the Kaiser! I'm glad none of my friends are doing it. If you know anyone who is, just tell her that Major Morris, Red Cross commissioner in Paris, has called "We need at once 1,000,000 sweaters, 1,500,000 mufflers, 1,000,000 pairs of socks, 1,500,000 wrist-lets—they must come before cold weather. Everyone here looks to America. We urge you on behalf of our soldiers and those of our allies who will suffer in their frozen trenches, and also on behalf of thousands of French and Belgian refugees. Begin shipping at once."

"The Thinker" Says:

(Political Advertisement.)

The federal government rejected war prohibition; it declined to raise an issue that would divide public sentiment; it recognized the right of millions of citizens who see no harm in a social drink.

It is not for me to say that the federal authorities acted unwisely.

The federal government increased the taxes on beer, wine and other liquor to the point that from this industry alone it will collect over $500,000,000 for war purposes. Ohio is called upon to contribute $50,000,000 of this immense sum.

Shall I by my vote take away these fifty millions the government is counting on to support American soldiers at the front?

When the wonderful drive for Red Cross funds was on, Colonel F. W. Galbraith, one of the leaders in that patriotic work and now in active war service, suggested that the prohibition fight be dropped and the campaign money contributed for the benefit of our sick and wounded soldiers. The organized liberals promptly agreed to give $250,000, but the Anti-Saloon league spurned the suggestion and went ahead with its propaganda.

I cannot escape the conviction that in this critical period the prohibitionists placed their cause above their country.

The language of the prohibition amendment does not fairly and frankly present the whole issue to the people—it is misleading in that it tends to cause voters to believe that if it were adopted there would be nothing to prevent them bringing in intoxicants from other states for their own personal use, unless the General Assembly of Ohio should supplement the amendment with further prohibitory laws. As a matter of fact the adoption of the amendment would make Ohio bone-dry, enforced by federal criminal law, and nothing the General Assembly might do could change that fact. The adoption of the amendment would automatically and immediately apply to Ohio the provisions of the Reed Bone-dry law passed by Congress making it a federal crime for anyone to bring into a dry state, or have brought in for him, a single drink of beer, wine or other liquor.

I cannot vote for this amendment without voting away my own personal right to drink and subjecting my home to search by prying dry detectives.

Perhaps the fate of the Anti-Shipping bill in this state in 1913 is the reason why prohibitionists refrain from explaining that the adoption of the prohibition amendment would make the state bone-dry. The Anti-Shipping bill was near bone-dry; it would have curtailed the rights of neither; it takes away the rights of both. Twice in the last three years the people of Ohio have defeated state-wide prohibition, each time more than half a million voters registering their refusal to surrender what they now have.

It has been a matter of wonderment to me that prohibition advocates should have so soon again forced their issue in defiance of the expressed will of these more than half a million men.

Under the Ohio license law the liquor industry now pays over $6,000,000 every year into the state, county, municipal and township treasuries.

Were I to vote for prohibition I would be voting to take away this tremendous revenue and increase my own taxes.

Over $450,000,000 are invested in real and personal property now used in this state by the liquor industry and associated business concerns. An immense sum in taxes is collected on this property for the benefit of state and local governments and obviously these taxes would be greatly reduced by prohibition.

As a taxpayer I see no wisdom in depreciating values now on the tax duplicate.

The people of Ohio are now paying more taxes than they have ever paid before, and government, from the nation down to the smallest political sub-division, is demanding more money for maintenance and improvements than it has ever demanded before.

Prohibition would reduce the present tax receipts by millions of dollars, add to the perplexities of government and confront us with this vital question—how would the deficit be made up, and by whom?

Considering this amendment from every viewpoint, and weighing carefully all the admitted consequences of prohibition, I am forced to the conclusion—

This was not the year to force a wet and dry fight in Ohio.

The Anti-Saloon League was selfish and unpatriotic when it insisted on its propaganda at this time and deprived the Red Cross of half a million dollars.

As a loyal citizen I approve my country's action in rejecting war prohibition.

I would be disloyal and would fail in my duty to the youth of America offering their lives at the front if I should vote to destroy millions of dollars of tax revenue the government is counting on to support our armies and win the war.

I would be foolishly and needlessly increasing my own tax burdens if I voted to cause a deficit of millions in state and local revenues.

I would be surrendering my right to temperate indulgence in a glass of beer, wine or other liquor.

I am opposed to guardianship of a free people and I protest against guardianship enforced by criminal law being thrust upon me.

I shall vote "NO" on prohibition November 6th.

Mr. Democrat:--

The morning after when you heard that your party had nominated Herbert August Atherton for Mayor--what were you feelings?

Mr. Republican:--

The morning after when you were told that the Republican nominee was Dave Murphy, how did you feel?

As a citizen without reference to politics you were disgusted weren't you? Disgusted that this town in which you live, in which you were raising your children should select men of the calibre of Atherton and Murphy for the highest office in the city.

Didn't you feel that there should be an Independent candidate? Other citizens felt the same way and that is why Jordan is a candidate.

The Cincinnati Enquirer commenting on the nomination of Atherton and Murphy stated that Newark ought to have a Chinaman for mayor. That is the way people on the outside look at Newark in the light of these nominations. Does Newark deserve this?

Answer It By Voting For JORDON Tuesday.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

During the past week, the association building has been alive with the 'Hallowe'en spirit. On Wednesday evening the house girls entertained their friends with a masked party. About thirty enjoyed the evening of fun. Refreshments suitable to the occasion were served.

On Thursday evening the business girls' gym class had a masquerade party instead of their regular gym work. The gymnasium was gaily decorated and all had an unusually jolly time with 'Hallowe'en games and stunts. Refreshments were served by the class.

The cafeteria is nearly overrunning its bounds. The excellent food served is drawing comment from everyone. Come in some day and try it for yourself.

The Bible class which meets each Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock under the leadership of Mr. Cowley, is growing in interest. The class is composed principally of business girls. A ten cent lunch is served at 5:30, so that the girls can come directly from work. There is room for many more and you will be welcome.

The Girl's club work is starting out with splendid enthusiasm. In addition to the five clubs already organized, two new ones are being formed—one in Central under Miss Mary Carl, and one in North Fourth street building under Miss Booth. Plans are being made for an increase of at least two new clubs in the high school, under efficient leadership.

The association entertained over the week end, Mrs. E. L. Caulkins, who has been state president of the Michigan W. C. T. U. for the past thirteen years. She is here in the interest of Ohio Dry.

Remember your friends have been remembering the association with gifts of fruit and vegetables. These gifts are so much appreciated. Special appreciation is given this week for work done for the association by Mr. Ben McCracken.

SCHOOL BOARD CANDIDATE MAKES A STATEMENT

Dr. Clark B. Hatch makes the following statement as a candidate for member of the city Board of Education.

1. I am a candidate for member of the Board of Education, because many citizens interested in our public schools urged me to become a candidate. I feel it a duty as a good citizen to stand for this important office.

2. I believe that Newark children deserve the best schools that it is possible to give them, and that the money spent upon education returns to the city better citizens, therefore I favor a liberal policy toward the schools, but I want every penny to bring some return to the school children.

3. I have two children in the public schools. I want them to have the best schools possible, but I want all other children of the city to have just as good a chance.

4. I am in favor of the best text books, and at the lowest possible cost to children, and free just as soon as the city's finances will permit.

5. I believe that every section of the city should have equally good buildings. These buildings should be such as to promote the best health of children. We should have school rooms enough in each building to avoid the crowding of dangerous railroad tracks by small children.

6. Newark school teachers, if devoted and trained for their work, should be paid salaries in keeping with the services which they render. Teachers usually are the lowest paid servants of the public.

7. If elected to the board I shall perform my duties to the best interest of the Newark schools and I shall certainly want the schools to be kept to the high standard now existing.

PROHIBITION

HOW THEY LIKE IT WHERE THEY HAVE IT

The Advocate, issue of October 31st, 1917, carried an attempt at refutation of a letter from Mayor Gill of Seattle, addressed to G. G. Barber, consisting largely of an alleged article from The Seattle Times, and purporting to be a statement by Chief of Police Beckingham of Seattle, to the effect that conditions there under prohibition were worse than before.

Knowing the policy of The Times and the spirit of Chief Beckingham, we wired them as follows:

Newark, Ohio,
November 1, 1917

Chief Beckingham,
Police Dept.,
Seattle, Wash.

"Wets here quote you against Prohibition. Wire my expense whether conditions better or worse."

(Signed) G. G. BARBER.

"Did Times carry article quoting Beckingham conditions worse under Prohibition? Answer my expense."

(Signed) G. G. BARBER.

In reply the following was received:

Seattle, Wash.,
November 2, 1917

G. G. Barber,
Newark, Ohio.

"No. Times did not carry article at any time saying conditions worse under Prohibition, because they were not."

(Signed) C. B. BLETHER.

Seattle, Wash.,
November 1, 1917

G. G. Barber,
Newark, Ohio.

"Was wet but have been converted and am confirmed dry after observing results of Prohibition Law. Conditions better. One period last month twelve thousand men out on strike and not one act of violence or one complaint from employers."

(Signed) C. L. BECKINGHAM,
Chief of Police.

The "Home Rule" Association also took exception to one of our published letters regarding conditions in Colorado and ran in connection therewith an alleged article from The Rocky Mountain News in support of their claims.

We have not investigated the genuineness of this article but it is a safe assumption that those who would fake news in one instance would not hesitate in another. The above exhibit speaks for itself. We might remind the "Home Rule Association" that we published a letter from Arthur Chapman editor of The Denver Times, one of the same "Schaffer" group of papers to which The Rocky Mountain News belongs endorsing Prohibition.

EVERY MAN IN U. S. SERVICE WILL HEAR FROM RED CROSS

The Red Cross is preparing to celebrate Christmas in a unique manner, and in the trenches in France, for our boys who are far from their own homes and families this year. The women of Newark and Licking county are requested to make enough Christmas packages so that every man may receive one, from the Christmas tree planned for each cantonment. It is necessary to have a package for every Licking county soldier, and some extra ones so we may give our share to our Sammies across the sea.

Full directions regarding these packages may be had at the Red Cross rooms. They are not to cost much money, nor be difficult to pack, but will bring Christmas cheer and a happy surprise to the soldiers who are giving up all they have for us. Surely the making of these packages will be a pleasure and privilege, and Licking county will send double her number.

The packages to be sent to France must be prepared before Wednesday, and may be left at the Red Cross rooms any afternoon. Be sure and get the list of articles allowed to be sent before making your purchases.

CAMP SHERMAN GRID TEAM TO HAMILTON

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., Nov. 1.—Camp Sherman's football team will leave for Hamilton, Ohio, this afternoon. The 33rd division will give a good exhibition of football in the game with Camp Taylor's eleven.

Hamilton, Ohio, this afternoon. General Glenn and wife and daughters, Lieut. and Mrs. Campbell, and several other officers, together with many Hamilton men and soldiers from that district, who were granted passes, to go home, for the first time since they left for the big occasion, made up the delegation from here.

Captain Nelson Talbott and Assistant Ed Camp, who have been taken advantage of this privilege and numbers of children have been benefited and now a few entirely cured. There were a great deal of time and attention were given, the teachers have offered to bear the expense of medicines, but these offers have always been met with a shake of the doctor's head. He has gone into the homes of many of our foreign population and has been a teacher to the parents, giving them advice on the care and treatment of the eyes of their children at birth, thus preventing many of the eye-troubles so prevalent among this class of people.

These are only a few of the many things that I know of personally which Dr. Hatch has done for the little ones of our city, and now that he is willing to serve them further by giving of his time and strength to the management of school affairs, I feel it is my privilege and duty, as well as the privilege and duty of every teacher and friend of the children to vote for him next Tuesday.

A TEACHER.
JORDAN'S CANDIDACY.
Editor of The Advocate.—I have noticed one thing about this campaign, and that is, it is a personal abuse of the name of Mr. Jordan. I realize that some ugly things might have been said, both in print and by word of mouth, that were not said—at least the newspaper campaign has been especially clean. I have, however, seen or heard a few disparaging remarks about some of the men who are backing Mr. Jordan's independent candidacy for mayor, intimating that they were in this for the selfish purpose of some kind. I am in a position to know and yet I am not identified with the independent campaign in any way and in all fairness to the men who are giving their time and money to promote Mr. Jordan's interest, I will say that their sole purpose is the betterment of Newark. These men are not fanatics; not "cranks," and they have no axes to grind. They are not seeking, and will not accept, special favors. They are doing what they believe is best for their home-town. School Board Candidate.

Editor of The Advocate.—Dr. Clark B. Hatch is a candidate for membership of Board of Education at the election next Tuesday. There is no class of people more vitally interested in the selection of good men for this position than the teachers. I am very sure I voice the sentiment of practically every teacher when I say that there is no man in the city better qualified for purposes than Dr. Hatch. He has always been a school enthusiast. There is no line of school activities but what has his interest and cooperation. Newark does not have medical inspection in the schools and Dr. Hatch has been of great service to the schools by meeting the teachers and reading papers before them, instructing them how to test the eyes and ears of the children who seem to have defective sight and hearing. During the years I have known Dr. Hatch he has given the teachers in the city license to bring or send to him, for examination and treatment any child whose parents could not afford this. Many teachers have taken advantage of this privilege and numbers of children have been benefited and now a few entirely cured. There were a great deal of time and attention were given, the teachers have offered to bear the expense of medicines, but these offers have always been met with a shake of the doctor's head. He has gone into the homes of many of our foreign population and has been a teacher to the parents, giving them advice on the care and treatment of the eyes of their children at birth, thus preventing many of the eye-troubles so prevalent among this class of people.

Mr. Litten's Statement.
The report is made for political purposes that the Chamber of Commerce brought out Mr. Jordan for Mayor.

I want to say that this is not true. I took part in this movement at the start and know the men in the movement and the Chamber of Commerce had nothing to do with it to my knowledge.

Dr. Lewis' Statement.

In view of the report by the supporters of Herbert Augustus Atherton that the Chamber of Commerce is behind Mr. Jordan for Mayor permit me to say I was in the first bunch that talked of organizing the Independent movement and had as much to do with it as the other fellow. I am not a member of the Chamber of Commerce and know that that organization had nothing to do with launching this movement or selecting Mr. Jordan as a candidate and had nothing to do with the movement since.

DR. J. T. LEWIS.

Mr. Stael's Statement.
The contest now on in our City for Mayor between the three candidates is raising a lot of dust. Many reports are given out which have no real existence and only cloud the real question. It is proper at this time to settle the dust and look at the real question with dust out of our eyes.

The Independent Candidate was brought out by the Citizens of Newark with a view solely to the best interest of the City and came about in this way.

The days following the primary nomination brought a storm of protest from all classes of Citizens. The sentiment upon all hands was that the election of Herbert Augustus Atherton would be a calamity to the town because the name of Herbert Augustus Atherton as Mayor would not be understood by the State at large. This name would call up recollections of Newark's most unfortunate days when Governor Harmon removed Herbert Atherton from the office of Mayor and moreover Herbert Augustus Atherton in his private life revealed in the Court records of this County, and his general want of business experience marked him as an undesirable Mayor.

It is hardly necessary to speak of the Republican nominee. By all appliances and science a diligent search would reveal no fact or argument which in the least would justify his nomination or election.

It will be remembered with what unanimity the Citizens of Newark expressed themselves concerning this desperate situation and demanded relief. In addition to this the City is on the verge of bankruptcy. An appalling situation.

In view of this situation, the undersigned, met Mr. William M. Morgan on the street and discussed the situation with him and also the general dissatisfaction of the people, and we agreed to call a meeting of a dozen Citizens in my office, among whom were Rod Jones, J. (Political Advertisement.)
Having been asked in regard to my position as candidate for member Board of Education, I wish to make the following statement:

I will support any practical plan that will reduce the cost of school books and to supply same free as soon as the law will permit.

I believe in liberal appropriations for the schools in order to secure efficient teachers and good school buildings.

I believe when selecting teachers for our schools they should be educated and brought up in our public schools.

I believe that our schools should be free from politics and if elected will work for the best interest of our schools.

CLINT E. CONER.

"Under the present municipal laws the Auditor is the 'watch-dog of the treasury,' and upon him, in a large measure, depends the safeguarding and protection of the public funds. He must be impartial, fearless and watchful, in order that municipal extravagance may be forestalled and the treasury kept from being a crib from which favored interests may be fed.

"The Auditor must possess that degree of stamina which will enable him at all times, without fear or favor, to uphold the right as it effects those whom he is serving. These qualifications, fortified with promptness and diligence in the transaction of the affairs of the Auditor's office, are pre-requisites to a successful administration and the full conservation of the rights of the citizens and the taxpayers.

EIGHT LOSE LIVES WHEN FINLAND IS HIT BY TORPEDO

Washington, Nov. 3.—The torpedoing of the homeward-bound army transport Finland in the war zone four days ago resulted in the death of two members of the naval armed guard, two army enlisted men and four of the ship's civilian crew. A third naval seaman is missing.

Vice Admiral Sims' report of the casualties to the navy department yesterday added no details to the announcement that the Finland had been torpedoed, but had been able to reach a European port under her own steam.

The casualty list, as made public late yesterday, follows:

Naval Gun Crew.
James W. Henry, seaman, second class; next of kin, Rose Henry, Harrison, N. J.

Newton R. Head, seaman; home address, Cleveland, Ga.

Porter Hilton, seaman, second class (missing) mother, Mrs. Lizette Hilton, Toccoa, Ga.

Army.
Private Lester Hickey, infantry, drowned; father, Thomas Hickey, Chicago.

Chas. H. Maxwell, colored, transport workers' battalion, drowned; brother, Thomas E. Maxwell, Concord, N. C.

Finland's Crew.

M. Cardoso, fireman, drowned.

J. Haneslo, barber, drowned.

W. F. Phillips, waiter, drowned; brother, A. Phillips, Jackson Baracks, New Orleans.

Jose Cuvass, mess boy, probably died from injuries; father, M. Cuvass, Havana, Cuba.

The announcement that five of the men were drowned indicated to officials that the Finland's company had left the vessel in small boats until it was made certain that she would remain afloat. The capsizing of one of the boats in launching might account for the drowning of the men.

It is assumed that two of the armed guard were killed by the explosion of the torpedo, and that the missing one probably was blown overboard by the explosion, as was a seaman on the destroyer Cassin when she was torpedoed recently.

FINLAND IN DRY DOCK.

A French Atlantic Seaport, Nov. 3.—The American transport Finland is in dry dock here. The vessel received such slight damage from the German torpedo that it will not be long before she puts to sea again. The torpedo struck a coal bunker, which lessened the effect of the explosion. Among those on board the Finland were several survivors of the crew of the transport Antilles.

NO DISEASE OF CAMP ORIGIN IS CLAIM AT BIG CANTONMENT

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio, Nov. 3.—Health conditions at Camp Sherman are excellent, according to a report from the base hospital where Camp Sherman's selective draft sick men are taken. The hospital had 480 patients from the 36,000 men making up the camp population today and a small percentage of them are cases that developed since the selects came here.

Numerous troubles of various sorts, including some cases of appendicitis have developed from cases of old standing. There is, however, no prevailing disease, which is explained as the one in which there are a greater number of cases. Men are sick from various troubles just as they could be expected in any community but the very low number of cases considered of "Camp Sherman Origin" is pointed to as positive indication that the Ohio selects are getting along splendidly.

Not more than ten deaths have occurred at the hospital in two months and several of these were from troubles dating back to before the drafted men reached camp.

This was Cleveland Day at the cantonment Y. M. C. A. secretaries and men of the Cleveland units, chiefly the 331st infantry are hosts. It is the first of a series of "city days," and "county days" which are to give the folks back home a chance to gain personal information about how the soldiers here are getting along.

The big Y. M. C. A. central auditorium is to be dedicated Sunday afternoon. Major General Glenn will be the chief speaker. Jean Picard, a French lieutenant now touring America also will make an address. The regimental band of the 332nd artillery will furnish the music.

ARE ECONOMICAL

Medium and full figures destroy many corsets quickly because of the strain put upon the garment.

True economy is found in the selection of Rengo Belt Corsets for reducing purposes because they are capable of a full season's wear, due to their unusual features of tailoring which insures retention of original shapeliness and fine extra strength materials.

Try Rengo Belt Corsets this Fall. They will out-wear two ordinary corsets and continue to supply the feeling of comfortable satisfaction. Boned with double watch-spring steels.
